CONSTRUCTION class members carry a model down the hall. The old and new parts of the building were marked by where the carpet began.

D.E. STUDENTS brighten up the morning with a bake sale held in the old lobby.

Here we grow Again

James Monroe was a construction zone again. Getting a new look took time.

Orientation in August for the new year was held in Maury's auditorium because the school was not usuable yet. The New Look started with a school that wasn't ready—yet.

STEPHANIE BURGESS and Tracy Burchell enjoy a football game at Maury Stadium.

STUDENTS wait outside during a fire drill.

HOMECOMING was a night to remember. Sara Lanford, Katy Chapman, and Charles Willis help hang blue streamers to give the gym a new look.

CHEERLEADERS' job is never done as they inspire the team.

Caution: Spirit Under Construction

Week one was full of following a map to find classes in a "new old" school. The "new new" wing and the old new wing were carpeted in rust and stripes and painted in an orangy tan. The old parts of the school were still in a state of "half-done."

On the first day, students were presented with a "new" school newspaper with the name changed from the Spotlight to the Monroe Doctrine. The new doors weren't in so the rooms had no numbers! Lockers weren't ready! No air conditioning and no windows! Bathroom facilities were scarce. The auditorium was "not there" until January. No pencil sharpeners!

The upstairs room had cinder blocks for walls and only half a hall was in action. Dust flew, welding sparks floated, and there still weren't any ceilings in the old part of building.

The students learned tolerance and to give "slack" to all the movement and change going on in the school. The business department kept spirits up as they hung up a "welcome" sign in their doorway.

Students felt uprooted at times, but we managed to persevere. The cast of the children's play had to go to Walker Grant to rehearse and perform because the auditorium wasn't ready. The librarians had more than books to take care of—English classes were held in the main part of the library. Sometimes it was hard to find Mr. Landis' Latin class as he moved from upstairs to the old new wing to next to the future elevator shaft. Miss Sais put up fake windows to compensate for windowless rooms.

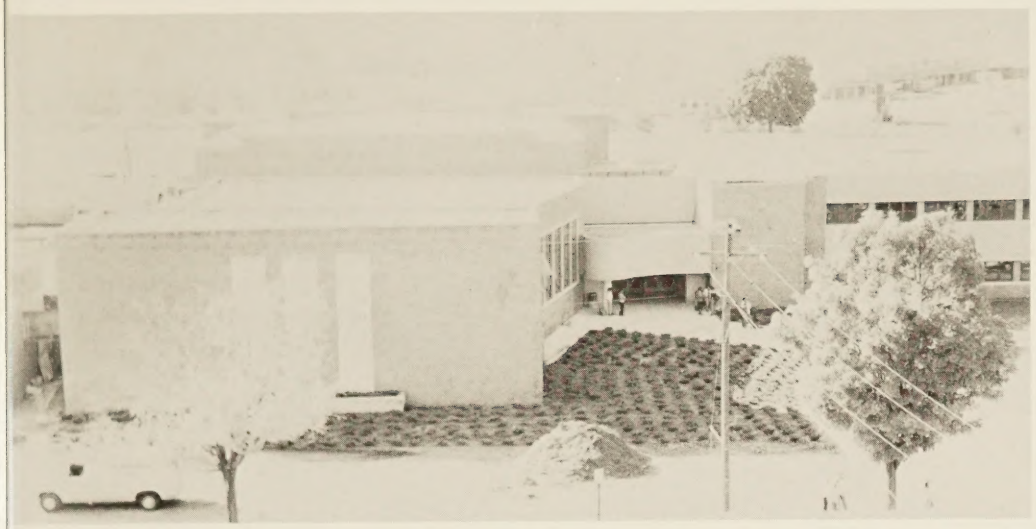
Accidents did happen. The chemistry lab's vents did not work and the halls smelled of "rotten eggs." The fire alarms were triggered by almost anything. Bells did not work.

Students did get some privileges because of the condition of the school. It was hard to get to class from the cafeteria after lunch, so students received a few extra minutes for the walk. The gym was not ready so there was a pep rally in the hockey field.

Changes also included going to homeroom every morning for attendance and listening to the morning announcements read by Kristi Hastings, Cindy Dunnigan, Mark Geslock, or Joan Estes. New teachers joined the business, English, science, vocational and fine arts departments.

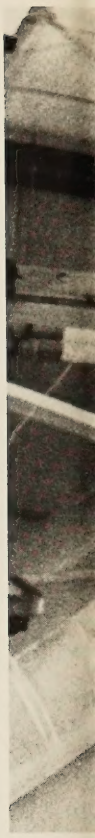
Our new look started with the inside and outside of the school being renovated. We geered our action and concentration with toleration of the construction.

DURING the week of pre-school conference, Mr. DeRonda, the construction chief, Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Atkins discuss the state of the school.



THE FACADE of the school changed as plants and landscaping took place.

MR. MAGER gets ready to go home. The halls in front of the main office were still not ready.



LORETTA JACKSON constructs a delicious dinner in her food service class taught by Miss Kimble.

ON SCAFFOLDING in the gym, Judson Sokol and Julian Bumbrey help give the gym a new look for the homecoming dance.

Teacher's Pets

JOINING in the Halloween fun, Mrs. Groesbeck, math teacher, science teacher, and assistant gymnastics coach, adds running to her repertoire.

Students found their teachers strangely bewitched just before Halloween. The school's orange and black colors, the symbols of Halloween magiced the teachers into animals and changed beings.

Bunnies, runners, cheerleaders, and yellow jackets hopped, buzzed, and cheered in the halls and in the classrooms.

HOPPIN' down the bunny trail, science teacher, Mrs. Dickinson reads her lecture in the library.

SHOWING her school spirit, Mrs. Hawthorne dresses up as a JM cheerleader for Halloween.

Instruction and Construction

Last Will and Testament . . .

LISA LEAH FALK: All the luck and happiness to Karen Chapman in her following years to come at J.M. To Norman Wilson and Tracy Burchell, I would like to leave my patience so that they may be able to finish their Practical Nursing Class. Also, I would like to wish them the best of luck in their nursing careers. To Sue Wilson I do hereby leave all my Oxford shirts and the patience to hang on to R.C. (ce la vi). To My one and only dad, I leave my Rubik's cube along with all of the aggravation and frustration I have had with it.

SUSAN M. ERICKSON: All the future Monroe Singers much luck, patience, and fun; the next NHS president, all my notes and the ability to lead the group through thick and thin; to Mr. Cralle, a computer and a lot of thanks for being a great teacher; to Madame Ernestine (K.B.) the guy of her dreams, the ability to "blow" up a balloon and much luck in the years to come; to Rick Hylton, memories of Monroe Singers (Ha! Ha!), patience to put up with life and lots of luck in his senior year; To Patricia P. and Nancy M. memories of my best year as a T.C. and the best of luck in whatever they decide to do in their lives; to Nancy Twinkle memories of English, government, and the senior play; to Tracy Chenault, all memories of Prom 1982 (I don't want them!), and endless supply of clothes, a road map to N. Stafford H.S. and thanks for great times; To Crisco another trip to N.Y., and endless supply of money, memories of Maranatha, Christmas caroling and a successful Chinese firedrill. Have fun your next 2 years at J.M.!; to Karan Bowen, the best of luck in whatever you do. Don't be a stranger and don't ever forget to always reach for the sky; to Leigh "Blanch" Acey, a pair of wet jeans (Pizza Hut—Homecoming 82), memories of the beach, our parties, years of Maranatha and Monroe Singers; the ability to tolerate that one person who grates on all of our nerves; someone's "other" ring to take to the Pawn shop; memories of the T.P. incident on someone we all "trust"; and anything else I might have left out. I wish you the best of luck in verything you do and thanks for being a great friend; to Shelly Welly and Dawn Maranatha; To Dawn G. a great senior year and many memories of fun times; and finally to all of my friends, best of luck with everything. Don't forget to keep in touch after the "big day" and always reach for the sky—it can't hurt! Smile.

KRISTI J. HASTINGS: Brooke, the official list of hockey songs; Alan Miller a trip to a party in a taxi cab; Jimmy Mercer, his own invitation to a party; Sarah, a trip to a North Stafford football game, craziness on the hockey field, and a good senior year; to Rob Smith a home perm; Pat Palumbo somebody to go out to lunch with and a few balloons; Philip King someone to give a hard time to in Study Hall; Barbara Cuddy a shower curtain and a ski trip to Seven Springs; to Greg a blue Volkswagen, breakfast at 11:00, summer of '82, a Spanish Exam, memories, two good years to come, my address, blonde hair, good times, and all my love.

JOYCE HAYNES: To Georgie Dungan, the best of luck with Tom, all of our walks to class, a Hardee's chicken sandwich, and my friendship; to Crystal Harding another date with D.D. (along with one of his senior pictures), a bag of peanut M & M's, and our wonderful memories of Chemistry; to Mrs. Robinson an engraved invitation to my wedding (whenever it happens), all the memories of our accounting gang, and a big "thanks" for everything; to Mrs. Rehberg an engraved invitation to my wedding, all of my shorthand notes, the strength to get through another year of teaching, and a big "thanks" for being such a good friend to all of us; to Amy Cocke a lot of luck with Kenny, a roll of film for the senior trip, some lilies, and all of our crazy memories of Chemistry and Accounting; to Jenny Madison all of my friendship and all of our wonderful times in 2nd period; to Cherie Perry the memories of English 11 and all the fun times we have had in school; to Sheri Jones all of our French class memories, government class memories, and especially our Algebra II class memories; to the "accounting gang" enough calculations so they don't have to share and all of our laughs; to my special friend, Tammy Delano, a case of Mountain Dew, all of our fun times, and the best of luck in everything she does; and to all of the underclass students left at J.M. . . . the best of luck in life!

MICHAEL ANTHONY MYERS: Misty Ridge (chirp, chirp) the wings to life. To Kim Johnson (QT) I ask you to please not go home. To Mrs. Rehberg and Miss VanAntwerp, all the wisdom of laziness. To Mrs. Stone, a rocking chair. To the ladies I leave the wisdom of a self defense course. To Liz Snellings and Karen Brennan some bacon from the hogs. I also leave the "dislikeness" of the Redskins.

MONIQUE HALL: All the luck in the world to Allison Williams, to Mona Grant my ability to keep calm during depressing situations such as a Burch test (you'll do just fine) to Faye Reid, the ability to "shut up" in times of trouble, to Shiron Pratt my ability to stay small even though I was born this size, to Pat Johnson all of my "high-water" pants (jeans) that are hanging in my closet waiting to be handed down to you. To Lisa Brown, my ability to stop bothering people when you are unwanted.

MARTY YATES: Alan Miller the "high life" at James Monroe. To Richmond McDaniel and Sean Holland many more awakening road trips. To "Buck" and "Ling-Ling" a free chili dinner at Big John's palce.

MARY STOFKO: To my dear sister Missie 5 whole closets full of new wardrobes, one outfit for everyday of the year, a night on Caroline St., one at Fall Hill, and the best of luck and happiness in the future. To Valerie Boutchyard, I leave a bull horn so she doesn't have to yell, all the guys she can handle and a night, a night on Caroline St. and luck and happiness in the future. To Mylinda Rowe I leave a new study hall pal to roam halls with, lots of laughs and guys. To Matt Belman I leave the ability to cope with Ron and lots of secrets that I can absolutly not tell anyone. To Merri Glover I leave luck in the future with Math and Spanish. To Susan Garnett, I leave a bag of M.M.'s for every football game and a family of skillets. To Steve Wasam (L.B.) I leave lots of juicy notes and lots of tickles and hugs. To Brian Wasam, I leave a pinch and a hug. To the hockey team, I leave lots of luck in beating King George and all the other and to Carrie Hallberg, my goalie pads. To Pam Blocker, I leave a great, big, mean dog (German Shepherd) and to Rev. Green, I leave a totally quiet and peaceful study hall for once. And to everyone, I leave luck and happiness.

JENNIE MADISON: To Cherie one M&M, all the good times we've had, including several unforgetable nights at Manny's house. To Manny all my extra cans and bottles, to Georgie, a wedding ring, to Kaye, Kell's arcade, to Lil and Pam one pair of tight jeans, to Matt one C.P. and his fantasies, to Ms. Rehberg one everlasting friendship and my phone number, to the typing and steno classes all my love and thanks for putting up with my undesirable moods. To the preps, I leave the izod lacoste factory, to Crystal, one M.R., to Boyd, one Friday night.

CHERIE PERRY: Jenny Madison one great summer and a seat belt. To Lisa Rocchio "Sand in the pocket," a parking place in McDonald's and some J.B. To Susan Garnett, "Mick" and a star! To Georgie, super man's cape and a pair of running shoes for chasing cars. To Robert a new book and some M & M candy. To Matt and Mannie a pool table and a gallon of milk and oatmeal cookies. To Selma some B.R. and a case of V-8 juice. To Crystal, F.L. and a silver Toyota Celica. To Lace a pair of goggles and Matt S. a sheet of ice.

MAUDE E. WILLIAMS: All the flagettes my ability to come up with good routines. I leave Allison my box of Kleenex tissues. I leave Jessie and Abrose the ability to graduate that their brother couldn't get. To all my other friends, I leave courage and dignity in their efforts to proceed in life.

ANDALL HEDGE: A case of Bud to the parking lot crowd, a pizza party for the ICT class. To Kevin, all the answers to Ms. Sais's test, to Tommy an endless supply of money so he can go bar hoppin all his life. To Mike, the chest championship of the world. To the underclassmen, my spot across the street, a pack of Marlboro, and my spot in the hall where they can watch the women. To the faculty, peace of mind knowing that the streets around school are safer since me and my rod are gone!

LIBBY O'MALLEY: Steve Cooper, a scrabble game for Spanish IV and to be "in charge" where Sra. Burch leaves; Richmond McDaniel, a tire jack and spare tire; Rob Smith, a camera for scenic picture taking on the road to Sweet Briar and a Skip Castro concert ticket; Merri Glover, the 50-yard line of the hockey friend for "just sittin' "; Pat Palumbo, my yellow Lilly pants; Sra. Burch, my seat by the bookcase; Mr. Hall, the "winner of the year" award; Michael, the strength to survive 4 years at J.M.; Helen Poole, another day of horseback riding; Gregger, free phone service to Kristi's college of beer knowledge; Flush and Slobby, the ability to cope without my daily abuse in Spanish; Mr. Waddell, all the wonderful chauvenistic comments that I think are hysterical; Doodle-bug, Carrie H., Froggie and Cathy G., the continuing J.M. hockey tradition; Mr. Taylor, the new gym complex Kristi and I built for him; PHJ, a trip to Massanutten and a subscription to "Harvey", Pencil, two suirrels playing in the woods; and most importantly, I leave J.M.

PATRICIA BROWN; Sabrina Juggins the ability and patience to sit down and listen to a teacher. To

I hereby leave . . .

Felicia Silver the ability to do what I just did. I would also like to leave Renee Wheeler all those handsome guys.

LEEANNE LAWRYNAS: To Kathy and Kim all the great times we've had through the years and the many more to come. To Mrs. Rehberg the strength to get through another year of clerk-typing and stenography (without any premature grey hairs). To Mr. Johnson, an "organizer" to keep all his appointments straight. To M.Y. a gorgeous blonde to satisfy his every need—so he will stop doing so much "talking". Finally to my brother Ben, I leave all of "Bic Mac's" yards rushed.

ROBERT ALLEN EDMONDSON: Leave James Monroe High School in '83 with a YEAOW!

NOVELLA JACKSON: Faye Reid, Jean Watts, and Katrina Bundy my ability to cope with the wonderful students of James Monroe after they received the special honors that they deserved from the Girls' Varsity Basketball team.

KIM STEWART: Mylinda, a new telephone for all the late night conversations we've had about . . . ; to my brother Todd, the next 3 years of luck and happiness along with a Spanish dictionary. To Jilly, my best friend, an over stuffed woodstock for Drew, the great memories of our friendship and all the luck and happiness with your future; to Nancy all my "smurfs" and a new pair of knees. To Kelly R. one attacking alarm clock and to Alex George one chic-fil-a and unlimited uses of the office, all my wonderful driving abilities, a bag of extra cheesy cheetos, a T-shirt "I'm taken" and all of the memories of the great times that we have spent together along with all my love.

COVELL THOMPSON AND Joan Estes help put up banners for the homecoming dance.

JUDSON SOKOL: To Philip King, the 32/45 club, keep the legacy going, De Bull, the Nugget, and some fun next year, to Poonchie a skillet and puppies and lots of weights, to Dave Reynolds a free lesson to learn to play tight-end, to Richmond more parties, to Shawn "Have you seen the Beast's grades," to P.M. "Skippy" Hellin, the wrecker of women and cars, a wife, to Charles Willis to be a Green Beret, a beard, to Karen another dance with Cooper, to Baker a lifetime supply of Jack, to Woodbridge, some turf from R.F.K., to Dean a game of intelly, to S.L.A. accpetance to the University of K.G., to Katy—P.M., to Fly "the hound" a talk with Jimi and some height, to Watts a chance to play basketball with me, to Joan a rich husband so she can survive, to Mr. Hall the loser of the year award, and Libby thanks for being my tutor and friend for these four years.

TRACIE TAYLOR: Carla Shover all the happiness and success in gymnastics. Michelle Skinner the memories of the movie theatre and of getting lost in W. Virginia. Kirsten Noakes the memories of the night at Taco Bell. To Kurt Thompson I leave a pair of dancing shoes. To Valerie Boutchyard I leave the memory of her kind smile. Missy Stofko a big garbage can, and college glasses. Matt Belman I leave the memory of the good times we had in W. History and playing tennis. Suzie Duggins, I leave to you a large milk container filled with 151 and the best times an JMU. To Katherine Sullivan I leave you all my books and my Christmas ornaments. Jimmy Mercer 1 year of Playboy. Brooke Thompson, I leave you a full year at the spa, free of charge. Tim O'Connor I leave you my empty bag that was full of brownies. Liz Snellings the good times in chorus. Penny Cannon, great times always.

KATHLEEN NEEDHAM: To Kim Hicks, an EMR poster autographed to Kimi Poo, to Todd, ten dollars, to Mark Geslock, a snowball, a water balloon and one Suzy Q, to my little sister Dede (BKA the Pink Panther), my kitty, take good care of her. All the memories of the weekend without the folks, and lots of good luck and happiness. To Kim and Alex, my two best buddies, a seat at the movies for the flick I never saw and lots of luck in the future, and to Andrew, I leave a trip to Old Rag mountain, Boo Bear, Boss, the Green Giant, Granddaddy, one football jersey, and lots of love from his little girl Jilly. Yea Buddy!

SUSIE MCDANIEL: To my dear and beloved sister Betsy, a bottle of iodine, just a few more clash buttons and mini skirts, the "cost of living" album and a date with Mick Joans (since they're both impossible drams. To Anne Woodward, a candybar without caramel. To David Reynolds, an extra large muzzle, $5.00, and a good secure belt. To Mike Whitticar, a paif of "stilts," and a great future at Harvard University. To the Cross-Country team, I leave plenty of apples and the best coach a team could have with the motto, "Just do the best you can." To the Andretti Brothers, a new tombstone for Courtland next year, and the ability to get along without Scott and me. Good luck next year at your new school.

ANDREA COX: My little brother Rodney, my will to graduate. I leave Darrin Bache a pack of gum. I leave Diane a yellow car door and success in the future. To Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Morgan, and Mrs. Townsley, an organizer. I leave to M.W. a little more talent. To Mrs. Lightner I leave David Reynolds. I leave Stephanie Burgess my car (be careful). I leave Mrs. Rehberg success in color consulting and I would like to thank her for such a great year.

TRINA LUCAS: To my dear sweet sister Yvonne all my athletic ability, the number twenty-one, and my good grades. I leave to Gaye and Bootsy my charm and my excellent attitude toward others. To Connie Smith a couple of inches of my height and lots of luck. And to all the upcoming seniors, "Good Luck."

RODNEY FORTUNE: Ricky and Ronnie Fortune the best of luck as they make their way through high school, and to Rick Bumbrey, for him to continue his Troy Tolson act. To Arthur Williams the most success in whatever he becomes and the best of friends we will still be as I leave James Monroe.

FRANK S. SCHMIDT: My red dragon wagon to Michelle Skinner so other people can complain about the radio, the window and the heat. Also, I leave my outstanding grades (ha, ha) In conclusion, I leave the P-lot to the bunch of non-drivers.

VIRGINIA CROOKSHANKS: Sheri Jones—one new car door, one black taffeta dress and one four year scholarship. Mr. Hall—one tape recording of a cynical laugh and newspats. Mr. Burch—one underlined copy of Light in August. M. Slaboda and E. Blodgett and Kate Bedford — one subscritpion to the Nat'l Enquirer (as a study guide). Mark Geslock—one "get out of jail free" card. Mr. Waddell—one copying machine. J. Newman—one top hat and my first novel. J. Lindsey—one copy of Presidential Review.

JOAN M. ESTES: Mr. Hall, someone like me to pick on next year. To the future cheerleaders, lots of luck maintaining—or rather acquiring—school spirit. To Cindy, all the good memories 2 best friends could share and endless "ski trips." To P.H.K., much love, good luck in school, and a long over-due date. To Rob S., a trip to Rio de Janiero. To S.L., the entire stock at Safeway . . . John will pack it for you. To P.M., lots of long discussions and thanks. To Covell, the opportunity to make up for lost time and a kiss! To Lindsay, a little less patience. To Pam, a fishnet dress and a trip to Towsen State. To Karan, many, many thanks for always being there. To Laura, all my love and support and open ear, and the sharing of a very similar "quest." And most of all, to J.S., a very Happy New Year!

KARAN BOWEN: Brooke Thompson memories of the Beesome threesome in the hockey field with Mary Moulton and myself and good luck to the hockey team next year in beating King George's "beauty queens." I leave to Helen Poole and Pam Lindsay fun times at the beach—Don't forget Dereo! To Merri Glover I leave good luck for a very bright and promising future ahead. To Dawn Reynolds, I leave a ticket to B.M. concert and all of the laughs gotten from her "crush" on Charles (smile)! I also leave you better taste in choosing a husband and an all expense paid, one month trip to charm school with me. To my senior class I leave lots of love and good luck in the future. And last, but not least, I, the poor, fragile, little wallflower that I am, leave to old Mr. Waddell a book on the feminine mystique.

HI from the Varsity football team.

Leaving things behind . . .

KATY CHAPMAN: Mr. Hall a ticket to a sex and violence movie, Mr. Cralle a piece of a cake with all of the icing he can handle, and Mr. Wadell six pigeons on a train track. To Shawn Holland, I leave a pen and pad for writing notes, and to Richmond I leave the hope of a U. VA championship. I leave to Brooke extreme aggression on the Hockey Field, to Merri Glover a trip to William and Mary (for any concert), and to Dawn Reynolds the courage to keep smiling (you're doing great, kid!) To Sally I leave lots of luck and my old tests and papers. Karan, I wish you the best always, and don't forget that quarter at the bottom of an empty glass! To James Monroe and the senior class, I leave a promising future and my most sincere wishes—Thank you all.

BOYD CARTER: To all the girls that I have not kissed the ability and the power to go on wondering what a sensation they have all missed. To all the fellas that are trying to be so cool and fancy free, I leave you the strength and the ability to walk in the footsteps of the man called Little C.

GAYLE WASHINGTON: My brother William Washington with my attitude and by ability to learn.

GLORIA O'BRIEN: My cousin April all of my school books and my good grades. I leave Kay Hitt my government book and the best luck with Johnny. I leave Jane the honor of being D.E. president next year. Most of all I leave the D.E. class all of the honors we have received over the past two years.

KAREN BROOKS: To Lyn, a date with Rodney, a pair of track shoes (to match mine), the chance to see "48 hours" with Jeff and me, and memories of riding home in the company car; to Karen, a happy life with Robert, and a healthy bundle of joy; to Wendy, my bill on the Freedom of information act, a spare radiator, and lots of luck with Eddie; to Janie, my government notes (to share with Wendy), my permission to borrow my brochures of invitations and honeymoon resorts (as soon as you return them), and lots of luck with Mark; to Mark, your dream house, and lots of luck with Janie; to Cathy, another crab party, lots of fun as a senior next year, and lots of luck with Jeff or whoever lights up your life; to Joyce, the ability to write shorthand at 120 words per minute, and more stationery to write Amy while she's away at college; to Amy, spare time to write back to Joyce, and all the luck in the world with Kenny; to Nancy, my Advanced English 12 notes (good luck!) and a lifesaver doll that I meant to give you for Christmas (sorry it's late); to Mylinda, memories of when we met Jeff and Kevin at the wrestling match at S.H.S.; to Scott, the ending to my story and many many more; to Mrs. Rehberg and Mrs. Robinson, an engraved invitation to my wedding and deep appreciation for making my Senior year a memorable one; and last but not least, to Jeff a trip to the Richmond Coliseum (I'll drive), and a single red rose, and all my love!

JOHN R. LINDSAY: To my sister, Pam, love, good luck, and the ability to see into the future with logic and wisdom. To K. McB. a squirrel of awesome talent. To K.M. a big tree trunk on which she can play, climb, and enjoy. To K.D. the "Trust me?" game and a fig newton. To K.B. the cover of Vogue. To Patricia P. a lifetime membership on the Honor Roll and no 87's. To India W. I leave a corndog and year's lessons at Wang Fu's Kamikazee Driving School—and a seat belt. KAREN BRENNAN: To Lizzie Anne three more years at Jayem and the hopes that you can make it through your classes with the help of my notes. To Monroe Singers and Ms. Carr great memories of the past two years. To Kathy Schlacter my vacated space in Monroe Singers (hopefully). To Rick Hylton a shoelace to remind you not to forget your shoes after Maranatha and Monroe Singers concerts. To Matt Maynard a piece of rope so I can tie your hands behind your back. To Denise Parker a free pizza at Gatti's. To Kimmie many thanks for being the greatest friend a girl could have and lots of love.

SHARON L. FRANKLIN: The future seniors of James Monroe with a finished school and lots of spirit & pride to go with it. To my best friend, Missie, I leave a baseball game, a trip to Atlanta with late night phone calls to a "young" love, one raincheck for a great concert, and someone to hold your hand at Fall Hill. To Kimbologna, I leave one E-Z driving lesson & master seatbelts in a new Sportscoup, the swimmer on the magazine, memories of our 9th grade friendship, and strength to throw away the cradle. To Kirsten, I leave patience to deal with her busy schedule, a chase in the woods. To T.L.C., mailbox raids, a Stafford thing, and one golden opportunity. To Malinda, one "_____mond" from Iran (or wherever), 10 pairs of pilgrim shoes, and the S.S. Minnow with a toupé. To Valerie, one phone call (3rd party) to the "sex maniac" of her choice, a real date to the Senior prom, and letters in her mailbox. To J.J. Birdlegs — alias (John), the ability "to learn from my mistakes", a blowdryer, and one copy of "Sharon's rules of Social etiquette." To Susan, the ability to hock what isn't hers and a truly forgetable homecoming. To "centerfold" a $200 budget! And to the lunch bunch the list of all the area top tens. Lastly to Sirhc — a juicy letter to read to All of his friends. Bye JM!

KELLY RYAN: Kim I. one kiss from M.W. and all my smarts in Spanish, to Kim S. All the luck in the World with A.G., also many excuses to go to play practice, to Malinda M. I leave all the Courage in the world to succeed in everything you do in life. I also leave many fond memories, also my love and friendship. To Kaye D. I leave one more trip around the Merry-go-Round, a pair of sunglasses which will probably add up to #10. Also a sunvisor to wear on every rollercoaster ride you go on. To Julian B. I leave lots of luck and success throughout life. Also a snake which represents you well. To Remus B. many great times also one trip to Salem Church (HA). Also a big bottle of MD Cough surup. Mr. Callaway, the puck that you somehow lost during ice hockey the year of '80." To Mr. Jay, the #1 teacher award. To Gary B. all the luck and brains in school which you definitely need, also a life's supply of gum.

Chalk Talk

It's all in a student's day. Hall hastle; exam cram. Listening, answering, and notetaking parted the sea of knowledge.

Students found the trick to keeping a ditto by using unique filing systems. Some students stuffed papers into a text book and left a trail of lost dittoes behind them. Others diligently packed them in an organizer with Garfield on the front or THE organizer by Meade.

Everybody had their own style of coping as chalk dust and the dust of the construction mixed. Most took up their Bics and Papermates — or for the more advanced, an Erasermate — and kept on taking notes. A student's work went on through the growth of minds and the growth of the building.

C. D., L. D., P.C., M.S., S. M., and me went swimming July 4 and C. D.'s and my wicked secrets.

Life was full of guys and parties; no wit is full of high hopes.

L. O. "slipped," the mercury aeph "ditched" us, SLA PDAD it and I was ever so in Love.

L. R. and I went to M. B. to place called "Magic Attic."

I love P. K. SAS SSS, G'Town, D. C., FMHRKET, GFHIIS!

SR was BITTEN on the hand by a mule.

DD kept a list of my little friends, and a night at NM's.

When R. B. went off pouting and K. D. went to look for him.

JS, CW, CM, PK, talked to Mr. Ostrovia. PK threw up on MSD the 455.

CD and I went on our first double date, "Dawn of the Dead," what a night.

LB, SM, MM, KC, AND I went to VA. beach and SM sang "American Dream" and K. C. stole KB's "spider."

Three greyhound buses waiting for me at 3:00 A.M. to go to Atlanta with the band.

MS and I went to JMU and were heading home and ended up in West Virginia.

Times at C. I., New Years at K. H.'s, A. B.'s yard, NS Game, 7-11, and proms.

J. B. AND D. C. were with D. T. over H.H., around the building doing something naughty.

TOM BAKER and Judson Sokol sing a duet for the senior musical tryouts.

Seniors Remember When . . .

K. N. and the chase, M. S. and Beach Boys, and the ticket.

JE, CD, and PC made a road trip to Towson ST was it really worth it?

J. M. was not torn up; GMB took me to GT on my B-day.

The evening of T. B.'s party with K.N., J. E., P.C., at K. S. and my rendezvous.

K. D. and G. D. almost got shot and locked up at Orange H. S.

I supposedly put the hole in the ceiling of G. D.'s car.

I remember those hot summer nights.

J. S. asked P. L. to come over his house. I wonder what was up?

Levi's were the "in" thing to wear; when the Silver Slipper was the Friday night hangout; when L. S. tried her best to avoid M. S.; and when I had nothing better to do that to but Brown eyes.

All the Friday nights when T. B., M. C., J. S. and I, S. A. B., would get together at the JM football games and get a little crazy.

The Red Skins went to the Super Bowl!

K. N., C. D., Al went swimming Ju 144 and when C. D., K. N. and I went to TSU

Mr. Carter MOVED us on the Paturent River.

P. B. and P. W. were feuding over M. L. who P. B. now has.

Everyone did really well on the final exam in earth science.

We were all Freshmen, but look at us now!

GORGIE DUNGAN, KAYE DERONDA, and Kim Stewart sing for "Little Mary Sunshine."

Mr. Sudduth hung his foot in his briefcase handle.

M. H., M. G., and I shared a room in Georgia.

I carried Tom home on a stretcher, and Jud "fell asleep" at U. VA.

M. J. introduced me (PM) to L. E. in November 1978.

Teachers used to be young, right Mrs. Stone. Young teachers are mean as Joe Green, right Ms. Rheberg.

S. M., K.C., K. B., M. S. and I went to N.H. K.C. ran with spider (S. M. and It's summer).

All the "Stone Age" times at the football games.

The batmobile lost its wheel in a five car accident.

MM, KC, KB, and MS had the greatest summer of our lives! You too RM and TOW

PCP, KM in the sound. CDP CG for CT pick. LO KH SA KM road trip to BG GC and F2

L. J. and E. J. went out and had a wild time one weekend.

SW, BW, JA, RS, and I took a Saturday drive out to Courtland.

I went on stage in the Emperor's VERY invisible clothes.

J remembered when I skipped all those days with R. G. and got caught everytime by Mr. Blalock.

I first got my learner's and I got stopped by two cops.

Buzzy's first cast party, ghosts in battlefield and "flake."

S. L. was supposed to be home at 12:30 and made it at 2:00

T. L. was talking to T. G.

Three "suckers" had a club in Algebra II '82 5th period.

During Sophomore year when we hid J. B.'s book bag and told them that J. A. had it and he was not at school.

When we spied on T. B. after Prom '81 and L. M. lost his eyesight.

C. H. fell out of her chemistry chair and all of our fun times.

C. P. got sick in McDonald's parking lot and SG got sick in her bed.

PR, MA, AND me almost destroyed Mr. Lanford's house with a tree when DR got a record number of dr's from Mr. T. When the crew would meet across the street every morning to get that cig in before school and all the great times we all had in the refrigerator known as James Monroe.

D. H. and P. H. celebrated graduation a year early and strip tease.

The silver slipper was the place to go on Friday Nights!

J. M. was not a construction zone!

All I saw was red; and in the beginning many trips to the candyshop.

I fell in love with K and I started the book. I wonder when I'll finish it.

My sophomore year I was cut from the hockey team.

KB was the quartermaster MM "jo" and SMW as the Am. Dream — we shook NH.

J. S. and I were "reacquainted" at the SHS wrestling match.

The band won two second place trophies at the peach bowl.

Remember When . . .

I "borrowed" a pack of gum from 7-11 and the lady told KR and LR to tell me to return it.

SM and kept "popping" in singing "viola I'm an American Dream."

All the times I don't remember; the stab went out every we the L. P.

My car was repainted in the school parking lot.

All the bad times I've had at J. M., but it wasn't all that bad.

LO, KM, SA, at PY's; LO, SA swamp running, KC DTBG, KJH at W&L, clown and "beach" and "pig".

WG and I made one of our many "stops" after Spring Dance and met a copper.

T. B. and I took a road trip to Marlborough Point.

TERRY SUTHERLAND and Andrew George try out for the senior musical.

REMUS BOXLEY, Julian Bumbrey, and Lawrence Holmes sing the "Schlitz Malt Liquor" song.

MARK GESLOCK, senior class president, and Julian Bumbrey sit in on a senior class meeting.

ANDREA COX and Diane Sullivan listen to directions about the senior class raffle at a senior class meeting.

JOHN ATKINSON and the rest of the cross-country team decorate their prize-winning float shaped like a Nike shoe for the homecoming parade.

FRESHMEN Steve Willis, Reggie Silver, and Sue Wilson come out of the industrial arts classroom to find their next class. During the first few days of school the halls were cluttered with construction material.

SUPERINTENDENT WARD tapes the room number on Mr. Burch's door as Mr. Hall looks on.

The hearts of James Monroe students were touched as they looked on as "E.T.'s", the extraterrestrial's, hearts throbbed and his magic touch gave things life. Princess Diana gave birth to Prince William, Hearts were in the news – the first human received a permanent artificial heart. The National Honor Society was in the heart of things as they gave the gift of life by sponsoring a Bloodmobile at school and delivering Valentine carnations.

The school got a new look with the renovation and students got a new look as prep went out and punk came in. A new way to talk and act – like a valley girl! Leg warmers crept up. The classic look with pumps and suits and romantic blouses mixed with casual jeans and cable sweaters.

Wired for sound, students wore Sony "Walkmans." Home computers became more popular with games from "Megamania" to "Cosmic Crunch." Television became more than Hill Street Blues, Dynasty, Fame, or MASH (which went off the air).

PACMAN fever waned and Redskins mania grew.

From the battle of the books and surviving test a bill committee Congress getting to for lunch having to finally walking the stage at graduation, the year was full of concentration on fun and books, action in the classroom and out, and toleration of the construction.
